SERVING STORIES

During the lowest point of my life, I was going through several months of very dark emotions, until one day I just had enough. I realized that I was either going to find a way to stand up out of my own self-pity and emotions, or get consumed by them. I decided that the way to accomplish this was to focus on helping others rather than to keep focusing on my own problems.

I wasn't sure exactly what to do though. That Sunday, in the sermon Rob talked about the parable of the talents. His words burned in my heart that whole week. What are my talents? What do I have to give?

The next Sunday there was an open house at the Healing Center. When we got to the job coaching area and they described what they do, I just knew this was where God wanted me to be. Period. He had shown me a way to utilize my talents and my passion for developing people's skills, abilities and careers. I signed up as a job coach and have never looked back. It has changed my life.

*Without realizing it,
I had stumbled through the ashes of my life and found my purpose.*

I look forward to every Thursday night working with the guests and being part of the Healing Center family. I have truly seen God at work here more than I have ever seen. I have learned to trust Him more and I've seen his power at work in amazing ways in the lives of many of our guests. I am truly honored and humbled to be part of such an organization. I am also constantly recruiting, so if you're interested in a life-changing experience, come check us out!
